

Workforce Readiness & Safety

+ An Integrated Approach to Safety, Health, and Compliance

Executive Summary

Industrial operations require more than standalone safety services. You need an integrated workforce readiness solution that prevents incidents, maintains regulatory compliance, treats injuries immediately, and keeps projects moving forward. OnPoint's Workforce Readiness & Safety solution integrates on-site safety management, occupational health services, contractor coordination, and compliance programs into a seamless system that protects your people, operations, and bottom line.

The Integration Advantage

Most companies contract safety, occupational health, and drug testing as separate services from different vendors. This creates gaps in coordination, delays in response, and missed opportunities for cost savings.

OnPoint integrates these critical services into a unified workforce readiness solution where:

- Safety advisors coordinate directly with on-site nurses for immediate injury response and modified duty placement
- Drug testing results feed directly into safety clearance without administrative delays or communication gaps
- Medical surveillance data informs permit-to-work decisions ensuring workers are medically cleared for all high-risk work activities
- Industrial hygiene monitoring supports both safety and health programs with exposure data that protects workers and maintains compliance

Result

No gaps between services. No delays from coordination failures. No missed opportunities to prevent incidents or reduce costs.

Strategic Business Outcomes

Prevent Production-Halting Incidents

One incident can cost hundreds of thousands in downtime and trigger months of OSHA scrutiny. Our integrated safety approach identifies hazards through daily inspections, controls risks through proper permitting, and monitors exposures through industrial hygiene. When injuries do occur, on-site medical response treats them immediately before they escalate.

Reduce Total Cost of Workforce Safety

Single-source integration eliminates redundant costs from managing multiple vendors. On-site injury treatment saves 3-4 hours per incident compared to off-site urgent care. Early intervention and aggressive case management reduce workers' compensation costs by 15-25%. Modified duty programs get workers back to productive work 25-30% faster.

Maintain Audit-Ready Compliance

OSHA, EPA, and DOT compliance expertise across all services ensures consistent, coordinated compliance. From PSM to medical surveillance to FMCSA Clearinghouse, integrated recordkeeping and documentation keeps you audit-ready without administrative burden.
